

Hiring multilingual talent?
Verify and certify language skills anytime, anywhere.

From Fortune 500 corporations to small and mid-size companies, Language Testing International® (LTI), a Samsung company, works with corporate clients to test prospective candidates and current employees for language proficiency and to help assess what level of proficiency is needed for different roles.

www.languagetesting.com

LTI Language Testing International®
EXCLUSIVE LICENSEE OF ACTFL

ACTFL
Language Proficiency Certificate
EXCLUSIVELY THROUGH LTI

9 out of 10 U.S. employers rely on employees with language skills other than English.

Demand for multilingual employees more than doubled between 2010 and 2015.

2010

2015

30%

increase in bilingual remote jobs since 2020

75%

of customers are likely to make a purchase from a company that had customer support speak their language.

63%

of applicants overstate their language abilities.

Business Benefits of Multilingualism

Why Certify Language Proficiency?

It's never easy to find the perfect candidate. From reviewing resumes to scheduling and conducting interviews, making the right hire takes time. LTI can help you reduce that time by eliminating the guesswork on whether candidates who claim to be fluent truly possess the language skills required for the job.

Assess with Confidence

LTI is the exclusive licensee of ACTFL, a leader in the development of proficiency-based teaching and testing. As one of the largest and most respected language proficiency test providers in the world, we offer the highest level of client services as well as convenient online test scheduling and reporting over secure client networks.

Multilingual employees bring undeniable value to the workplace, helping build a culturally diverse workforce, which allows for fresh ideas and perspectives in creating new business solutions. They also help with the expansion into global markets and the building of employee-customer trust.

Testing Standards

Based on ACTFL's rigorous test development research, standards, and best practices, our testing program and ratings have become a standard measure of language proficiency for the past thirty years. LTI administers reading, writing, speaking, and listening tests in over 60 countries and 120 languages to hundreds of thousands of candidates every year.

Each test is designed to properly determine the specific proficiency level of an individual and ultimately provide a valid and defensible language credential.

Partner with LTI for all your language testing needs!

LTI offers individuals, institutions, and organizations a simple and efficient remotely proctored testing solution. Tests can be ordered by companies or individuals and delivered to candidates through a secure and defensible process anytime, anywhere.

Language Testing International

Tel: 914-963-7110

Toll Free: 1-800-486-8444

sales@languagetesting.com